NEW MEETING DATES

North American Artery has changed the pattern of its Annual Meeting so that it will now take place in late May or mid-June each year. The meeting dates for 2018 has been shifted to mid-June, which allows for participation by many firms that were unable to be a part of previous meetings.

LOCATION AND SPACE

The Eighth Annual Meeting will once again take place in the West Campus (UIC Medical District) of the University of Illinois at Chicago. NAA 2018 will commence in the Student Center West building, 828 S. Wolcott Ave, Chicago, IL 60612. The seminar and exhibit space is on the second floor, in the Michele Thompson Rooms (Rooms A – C). Symposia and discussions will occur in Rooms A&B while exhibits, posters, and breaks will take place in Room C.

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to take part in the Eighth Annual Meeting of North American Artery that will take place June 15-16, 2018 at the University of Illinois at Chicago, Chicago, IL. The theme for this year's conference is "LIFESTYLE, ARTERIAL FUNCTION AND CARDIOVASCULAR RISK".

NAA 2018 will focus on the impact of lifestyle and arterial function on the risk of developing cardiovascular disease, with additional information on the effect of arterial function on risk in various clinical populations. The major Symposia will focus on arterial function in chronic kidney disease; nutrition and arterial function; exercise, fitness assessment, arterial function and CV risk; and inflammation and arterial function. This year's popular debate will feature the topic of BP management.

The meeting will continue to feature oral and poster abstract presentations by young investigators as an integral part of the Annual Meeting including presentations from the top young investigators from the 2017 ARTERY and LATAM meetings and keynote lectures by international leaders in the field. We will continue this year with an increased number of oral abstract presentations from trainees and young investigators -and practical hands-on the popular demonstrations given by sponsoring firms such as yours.

Our sessions and exhibit hall, located in the same meeting space as NAA 2017 on the west side of the UIC campus, will be hubs of discussion, with opportunities to network with academic and practicing physicians as well as clinical scientists and other professionals from the United States, Central and South America, Canada, Europe, and Asia, while visiting with firms displaying their new technologies, devices, and pharmaceutical products.

We encourage you to help make the NAA 2018 Annual Meeting a valuable and successful experience by actively taking part in the education of the participants while supporting our efforts to raise awareness of the importance of arterial and aortic stiffness as it relates to cardiovascular risk.

Sincerely,

Bo Fernhall, PhD

NORTH AMERICAN ARTERY

North American Artery (NAA) is a professional society dedicated to the encouragement, support, and understanding of vascular structure and function and its application to clinical medicine, research, and pharmaceutical and medical device development.

NAA was formed in 2010 around the vision of providing a forum for investigators, industry partners, and clinicians to present research findings and to participate in education in the field of arterial function. The mission of NAA is to promote investigations that pursue the relationship between arterial stiffness and outcomes such as death, heart disease, stroke, dementia, and chronic kidney disease progression, in addition to modulation of arterial stiffness through exercise, drugs, and nutraceuticals. Our further goal is to raise awareness of the importance of arterial and aortic stiffness as it relates to organ function and cardiovascular risk.

The members of NAA are researchers and clinicians, primarily cardiologists and nephrologists, focused on understanding arterial dysfunction as a root cause of cardiovascular and metabolic disease.

ABOUT THE ANNUAL MEETING

NAA sponsors an annual conference with a focus on advances in our understanding of mechanisms involved in arterial dysfunction, its diagnosis, and the inter-relationships among vascular function, hypertension, diabetes, cardiovascular and kidney disease. NAA conferences feature current investigations presented by leading investigators, along with debates in controversial areas, device technology updates, oral and poster abstracts, and NAA-sponsored young investigator awards.

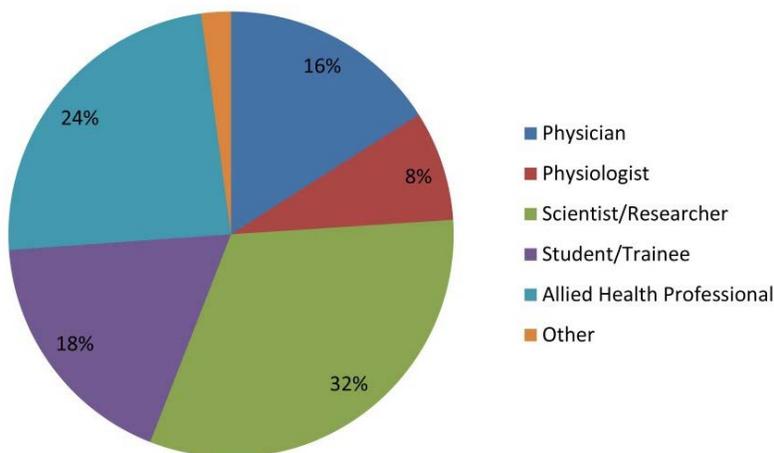

NAA continues to pursue its mission through partnerships with related organizations such as Pulse of Asia, the American Heart Association, and ARTERY, which publishes abstracts presented at NAA Annual Meetings in its journal, Artery Research.

The 2018 Annual Meeting is co-sponsored by the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) and will be hosted on its campus. New this year are an increased number of oral abstract presentations and practical hands-on demonstrations provided by our sponsors.

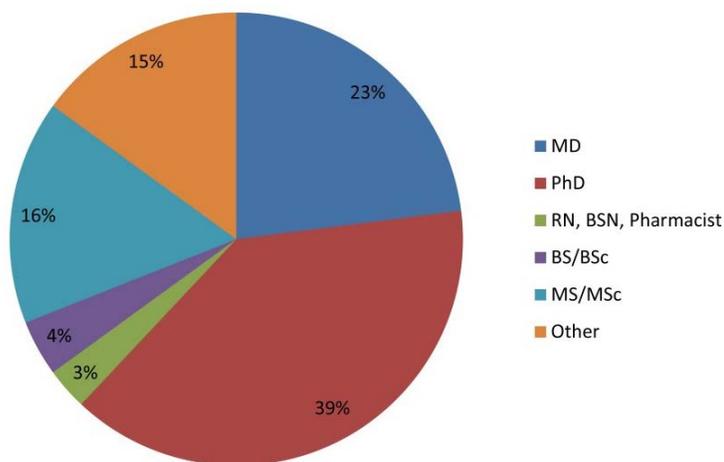

TARGET AUDIENCE

The target audience for the Eighth Annual Meeting include academic and practicing physicians and clinical scientists, as well as leaders in companies that develop and/or market drugs or devices interested in arterial dysfunction, its diagnosis, the inter-relationships among vascular function, hypertension, diabetes, cardiovascular and kidney disease, as well as other areas where hemodynamic measurements are used.

HOST AND FACILITIES

As mentioned before, UIC will once again host the Annual Meeting on its campus in the Student Center West building, 828 S. Wolcott Avenue, Chicago, IL 60612. The seminar and exhibit space is all located on the second floor, in the Michele Thompson (aka Chicago) rooms A-C. As indicated on the drawing of the meeting space, the seminars will take place in rooms A&B and the exhibits, posters, and breaks will take place in room C.

UIC was born in 1982, when the Circle and Medical Center campuses consolidated to form a comprehensive university campus with six health science colleges and an academic medical center. Consolidation helped UIC reach elite Carnegie “Research I” status. In 1993, then-UIC Chancellor (and later UI President) James Stukel launched the Great Cities Initiative to join UIC teaching and research with community, corporate and government partners in tackling urban challenges. Renamed the Great Cities Commitment at its ten-year mark, the signature program integrates research with genuine community engagement. UIC’s newest residence hall opened in 2007 and was the capstone of UIC’s South Campus development, a public-private partnership that brought student housing, retail stores, restaurants and private residences to the historic Maxwell Street neighborhood. The influx of faculty and staff families and the expansion of student housing helped UIC change from a daytime commuter campus into a vibrant, 24-hour academic community. Today, about half of UIC freshmen and one-fourth of undergraduates live on campus.

Special sleeping room rates are being negotiated by NAA with nearby hotels for participants. Information will be included in the exhibitor kit materials sent to all confirmed sponsoring companies.
